The Navy League of Canada

TO THE average citizen of Winnipeg the Navy League signifies but one thing—the Sea Cadet Corps, that splendid unit which, for the past twenty years, has been the means of developing in thousands of boys those ideals of honor and discipline which lead to good citizenship. That our efforts have not been in vain is proven by the fact that we have record of over 500 ex-cadets now serving their King and Country.

Since the outbreak of war, however, it is but natural that the responsibilities of the Navy League should have steadily increased. The call for woolen clothing is never-ending, and to meet this demand the Manitoba Division has already supplied thousands of pounds of wool to hundreds of loyal women knitting for our sailors. As a result of the tremendous activity on the Atlantic coast, the accommodation for sailors, both of the navy and merchant marine, is woefully inadequate. To assist in remedying this condition the Navy League is erecting a building with sleeping accommodation for 600 men, as well as recreation rooms and canteen.

Space does not permit further details of our work, but I am sure that every citizen of Manitoba has a full realization of our great debt to the gallant lads of our naval forces.

This entertainment is but one method of raising funds to provide a little comfort for these men. Much more is needed. We ask your continued support.

E. W. KNEELAND, President Manitoba Division.

Congratulations - - and Best Wishes!

*C*ongratulations for your splendid past achievements. Best wishes for your success in the work that lies ahead. These are EATON'S sincere thoughts for the Navy League of Canada today. Yes, particularly today—and tonight—which will be full of glorious song, great and inspiring music, and also “a barrel of fun.” Well, the boys surely rate that, too, don't they!
